LOS RIOS HEALTH ALERT: CORONAVIRUS (COVID-19)

The health and safety of our students, faculty, and staff is paramount. We understand that there is great uncertainty and concern among the community regarding the coronavirus (COVID-19). The Los Rios Colleges are taking all appropriate measures and following the guidance of the California Department of Public Health and county agencies. Sacramento County Public Health experts have directed all colleges to proceed with regular class and work schedules at this time. We are monitoring the situation closely and will provide updates via email and RAVE Alert if there are any changes. For up-to-date information, see the Sacramento City College website.

Los Rios has also created a Frequently Asked Questions \(FAQ\) website to address some of the public health, operational, and academic questions that have come forward. The Sacramento County Department of Health Services' website and the Centers for Disease Control website both have additional information about coronavirus that may be useful in learning about any risk to the health of our community.

Students, faculty or staff who have any questions about impacts to the colleges should contact their campus Health Center.
